American Olive Oil Producers Association

Founded in 2012, the American Olive Oil Producers Association is the unified voice for American olive oil producers and their state associations. AOOPA advocates in Washington, DC, state capitols and with partners around the world for policies for fair global market access for all producers; to support effective testing, standards and regulations; and to promote education about the quality and culinary and health benefits of olive oil.

California Olive Oil Council

Established in 1992, the California Olive Oil Council (COOC) is a trade association dedicated to promoting certified California extra virgin olive oil through education, outreach, and communication. The COOC is committed to upholding the highest standards within the olive oil industry through its Seal Certification Program.

Olive Oil Commission of California

The Olive Oil Commission of California (OOC) was created to support farmers by conducting growing and processing research, developing and enforcing standards, and ensuring that California olive oil is accurately labeled so customers can have confidence in the quality of California olive oil.

About The Olive Oil Conference

Co-hosted by the American Olive Oil Producers Association (AOOPA), the California Olive Oil Council (COOC), and the Olive Oil Commission of California (OOC), this is a collaborative and innovative conference addressing the latest trends, research, and challenges in the olive oil industry.

Showcase your commitment to the growth and success of the olive oil industry while gaining visibility among key decision makers and peers by becoming a sponsor.

Registration for The Olive Oil Conference is free, with optional ticketed events such as the bus tour and cocktail reception.
